Friday, August 19th Cont.

The scientific program will end at 12:30pm: Friday afternoon and evening are free. What to do?

Captain your own boat while enjoying a glass of wine 2:00-4:00 pm. The IAG has reserved 4 boats that can accommodate 10 people each. Enjoy a self-guided floating party. See the Sleepless in Seattle house boat, explore Lake Union, the locks or Portage Bay for 2 hours with your Gnathology friends. If it's hot enough the more adventurous can swim right from the boat.

Cost is $35 per person. Limit 40. signup at the registration desk.

Walk the 3 1/2 blocks from the WAC to the Monorail and ride it to the Space Needle, The Chihuly Garden and Glass Museum and the Museum of Pop Culture. All within steps of each other.

Seattle is the home of Boeing. The Museum of Flight is a 20 minute Uber ride from downtown and is well worth the effort. The exhibits range from the origins of flight to the space capsules and are a must see. History buffs will enjoy the interactive displays.

Underground Tour: Did you know that the waterfront in downtown Seattle was once a few blocks further in? And that many current street level businesses were actually the second story of the original buildings? Discover Seattle's first neighborhood, Pioneer Square, on this guided walking tour. Explore the now underground sidewalks that were built more than 120 years ago. Learn about Seattle's history and the events that transformed this once-small Indigenous dwelling place into one of the most popular and thriving cities in the United States.

Saturday, August 20th

The scientific session will be from 9 am to 4:30pm. There are no organized IAG spouse\guest activities for this day but take time to explore the city, do some shopping or check out one or two of the activities on the previous pages. Below are some additional things to do in the area.
