

International Academy of Gnathology The Dr. Beverly Bolling McCollum Award

DESCRIPTION: The McCollum Award was established during the 1967 International Academy of Gnathology meeting in San Diego. Drs. Charles Eller and Carlos Ripol designed the medallion that was first bestowed on Drs. Harvey Stallard (1969), Charles Stuart (1971) and Peter Thomas (1971) during Congress IV, Congress V, and Congress VI, respectively. The McCollum Award, the highest honor conveyed by the Academy, is presented at the biennial meeting to a distinguished individual, or individuals, who have contributed significantly to clinical application, science, and/or education in Gnathology.
